The steamship Pommerania, with 226 passengers and crew, was run into by an iron bark, off the coast of Dover, England, causing her to sink with her cargo of human freight. Sixty persons lost their lives, while the others were picked by passing vessels. Not a man of the crew was lost except the Captain, who heroically refused to make any efforts for himself until the last one of his passengers had been provided for. He had made 125 successful passages across the Atlantic Ocean, and was as brave a man as ever commanded a ship. The collision was the result of carelessness, which will be rigidly investigated. A number of those lost were Americans.

A NEGRO named George Williams committed a heinous outrage on a little eight-year-old white girl at Brownsville, Ky., and was arrested and put in jail at LaGrange, Ky. Thursday night a mob overpowered the jailer, got possession of the keys and took Williams from the jail. The next morning the body of the lustful brute was found dangling to a tree; and the verdict of all good people, notwithstanding Judge Lynch was master of ceremonies, is that he was served exactly right. Designing lawyers, over-conscientious jurors, insecure jails, and the Court of Appeals are now powerless to aid him.

A WEEK or so ago we said a word or two of encouragement for the editor of the Somerset Reporter, believing that he was sorry for his silly action during the campaign and was anxious to acknowledge his wrong; but his remarks of last week show that he has "returned to his vomit," and is no longer a subject of Democratic confidence or patronage. We are a little sorry to give him up, but we have lost a great many just as good men, and never missed them. Bye, bye, old fellow!

Mr. J. W. POMPHREY, editor of the Saturday Evening Press of Covington, has been indicted for criminal libel by the grand jury of Kenton county, in that he did "falsely, scandalously and maliciously publish that Hon. John G. Carlisle, member of Congress, is an habitual drunkard, violator of confidence, breaker of promises and betrayer of his friends." Mr. Pomphrey's bail was fixed at $200.

The Yoman has a well written editorial urging the election of Hon. J. C. S. Blackburn as next Speaker of the House of Representatives, which we heartily endorse. Capt. Blackburn's election would do honor to the great party of which he has proved himself so true a member, and would be a fit recognition of the claims of a man who has labored so hard for the success of the Democracy.

The Court of Appeals has affirmed the decision of the lower court in the case against Frazee for killing Hanks, some time ago, in Anderson county. Mr. Frazee will, therefore, suffer imprisonment in the Penitentiary during the period of his natural life. Score one for the Appellate Court.

An explosion occurred in the Sullivan (Ind.) Coal Mines a few days ago, caused by the ignition of the lamp flames with the gas and the consequent setting fire of eight kegs of powder that were stored in the mines. Thirteen persons were killed outright and eight or ten badly wounded.

MARSHAL J. L. YOUNG has died of the wounds received in attempting to arrest some scoundrels who were trying to run rough shod over the town of Mt. Sterling. Editor Thomas J. Young and the other wounded are doing well, and are in a fair way to recover.

ANGELL, the man who euchered the Pullman Palace Car Company out of $120,000 and fled, has been hunted down, and is now in a jail at Lisbon, Portugal, awaiting the action of the Company. On his person was found a roll of bank notes amounting to $80,000.

DURING the year ending 31st October there were 758 railroad accidents in the United States, resulting in the deaths of 204 persons and the serious wounding of 740 others. Riding on the rail is a pretty serious business when you come to think of it.

The Lexington Transcript pays its composers only 18 cents per thousand, and they take their spite out by refusing to use punctuation marks. The personal columns of that paper now look like a mail list.

RADICALISM is so dead in Louisiana, that the New Orleans Republicans, the only paper left in the State to advocate that doctrine, has made its ascension robes and is waiting for some good day to "go up."

GOVERNOR GEORGE S. HOUSTON, a man who will reflect credit on himself and the so-called solid South, has been elected Senator from the State of Alabama. There were only two votes against him.

STANFORD must have a second crop of miles. Walton speaks of "the sequel of the last volume,"—Emmett Logan in C. J. "Mistake of the intelligent composition." Of course we meant four miles.

A YOUNG desperado named Samuel Judd, who has killed four men in the last three years, rode up to Frank Turner's house, near Williamstown, Ky., and calling him out told him that he must take a drink with him. Turner, not being a drinking man, refused, whereupon Judd drew his pistol and ordered him to get down on his knees and apologize for having struck his younger brother on election day. Turner fearing to do otherwise, obeyed, when Judd rushed at his throat with a knife which he plunged into it, and tearing the knife out, nearly severed his head from his body. Turner died in a few minutes, and as soon as the news of his death reached his neighbors they hurried for the Sheriff, and Judd was arrested and put in jail, when demonstrations were made to mob him. Turner leaves a wife and three children, all of whom witnessed the terrible tragedy.

THE following from the Courier-Journal is pretty good reading for those Democrats who did their duty at the late election, and are able to appreciate the glory of the situation: "Omitting California probabilities, the complete returns from the November elections show that in the Forty-sixth Congress the Democratic plurality over Republicans will be nineteen; the Democratic majority over Republicans and Greenbackers will be fourteen, and the Democratic majority over all, including the portion of the Greenback vote which is pledged Democratic, will be twenty."

THE British Indian forces have, so far, met with no obstacle in their invasion of Afghanistan. The British government has plenty of money and soldiers to back it, and the prospect is that it will make short work of the Amer. The casus belli is the insult offered to the Empress of India by the denial of Major Carnagani a passage through the Khyber pass, a few weeks ago, when he went as a commissioner from Lord Lytton to make overtures to Sher Ali.

MR. SPENCER COOPER, late Business Manager of the Lexington Transcript, has begun the publication of a tri-weekly called the Trade-Mark. It promises well, and the very fact of trying to establish another paper in Lexington, is proof that Mr. Cooper has pluck enough to go through if the people will give him a helping hand.

THE President is busily engaged on his message to be presented to Congress on Monday next. Knowing ones say that a great deal of it is devoted to Southern affairs and is just as genuine a bloody shirt production as Blaine, Conkling or any of them could wish.

LAST week Warren Tate shot and killed Wm. Love while he was testifying in a case before Judge Burns, at Indianapolis. The Judge fined Tate $10,000 for contempt of Court, and held him without bail for the murder.

POOR Joe Blackburn's hopes for the Speakership have been crushed. The Danville Tribune, which is authority in such matters, says that he has no more chances than Jupiter Russell.

A MEAN Carpet-bagger will misrepresent the Second Florida District in Congress. His name is Horatio Bisbee, and he is said to be as mean as the devil.

RELIGIOUS.

Elder J. Ballou is conducting a protracted meeting at Sulphur Well, in Jessamine county.

We will furnish the INTERIOR JOURNAL to any Minister of the Gospel, who makes preaching a business, at $1 per annum.

The ordination of baptism was administered to Mrs. C. D. Ayres and Miss Mollie Yeager, by Rev. J. M. Bruce, on Sunday last.

Rev. J. M. Bruce returned on Sunday to Middleburg, where he is assisting Rev. M. S. Satter, in an interesting revival. Twelve had united with the church to Tuesday last.

The only Thanksgiving service held in town yesterday, was at the Methodist church, where the Rev. J. S. Sims preached a very interesting sermon on the subject—God as a Ruler.

The last church meeting of this year will be held at the Baptist church on Saturday, December 7th, at which time a pastor for the coming year will be called, and other important business attended to. A full attendance of the members is earnestly requested.

The Union revival conducted by Rev. J. L. McKee, of Danville, at Lebanon, has closed after lasting four weeks and a half. Fifty-five persons have been added to the church, and the churches that took a part in it, and the Standard says there are a number of converts that have not joined any church yet.

Elder C. J. McKinney has just closed a meeting at Hall's Gap Church, resulting in 19 additions; 11 by immersion, 3 from Baptists, 1 by letter and 4 reclaimed. Eld. McKinney developed the strength and piety of the members; the good are growing better, and the careless and indifferent are being aroused. He has won the hearts of the people of this community, both old and young, by his clear and forcible way of presenting God's word. ALONZO MARTIN.

COURT MATTERS.

A called term of the Boyle Circuit Court will be held on the 29th inst., for the trial of Equity causes, and more especially the Reed cases, which were transferred to Lincoln and afterwards sent back to this county.

WORTH-THE-A-MEMBER.

The so-called workhouse has been rented for the next year to Spencer Cooper, for $50. This institution may save to the county the small expense of detaining petty offenders, but the community is not benefited thereby.

PERSONAL.

Hon. J. Proctor Knott was in town a day or two of last week, the guest of Professor Fales. Miss Mary Gentry, a beautiful and interesting young lady from Sedalia, Mo., is visiting at Mr. P. T. Gentry's. She will spend the Winter in this and Lincoln counties.

A WELL-MATCHED PAIR.

Saturday night an altercation arose on the corner of Main and Third Streets, between Wm. Brewer and Arch Snow, the Singer Sewing Machine Agent. No sooner was the lie uttered by Mr. Brewer, than the offended feelings of Mr. Snow impelled him to fight against the infamous Brewer's face and destroyed his equilibrium. Let not this remind any one of "The snow, the beautiful snow," etc.

MR. JOHN C. YOUNG.

Gave a Bible reading in the Christian church, Tuesday night. By request, his remarks were upon the 21st chapter of Revelation. It is sufficient to simply mention Mr. Young's appearance upon the rostrum to know that his audience was deeply interested. His eloquent and picturesque description of the New Jerusalem, was a new delight to those who had heard him upon the subject before, and to strangers it was a rich intellectual treat. Could not Mr. Young's power be used to advantage against Ignorance?

REV. GEORGE O. BARNES.

Was greeted by a large audience of his devoted friends at the meetings held here Sunday and Monday. The Christian church was crowded at each service with people eager to hear again the earnest Evangelist and attractive speaker, whose labors in our midst last Spring were so blessed. Nor was he more heartily welcomed than his faithful assistant, Miss Marie, whose sweet singing and modest manners have endeared her to many hearts in Danville. In his discourse Sunday night, Mr. Barnes (referring to the conference of learned clergymen in New York, a few weeks ago in regard to the Millennium), it was his decided conviction that the coming of Christ was not five years hence, and it would be, most probably within half that time.

ESCAPED FROM THE WORKHOUSE.

C. W. Sidman and W. H. Lee, the vendors of lottery tickets, were tried Nov. 22d, before the Judge of the Quarterly Court and a jury, and fined $100 each; failing to pay which, they were sent to the workhouse. There they remained just two days and effected an escape Sunday night by picking a lock, says Mr. Crow. A rumor has gone abroad that our County Attorney received a telegraphic message from them requesting his presence at the Burnet House, Cincinnati, where he could get his 50 per cent. We do not place any credit in the report. Detective Jack Gallagher, of Louisville, came here Friday, and was anxious to take Sidman and Lee home with him, where eight or ten warrants for felony await them. Our claim, however, was prior. These two sharpers are also badly wanted in other parts of the State.

TROUBLE AMONG THE PORCINE SPECIES.

The days of the grovelling swine are at present few and full of trouble.

MANY MADE HAPPY OR—

The marriage register shows several pairs made happy during the present month.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Sallie Owsley and Miss Willie Belle returned on Saturday after a visit of six weeks in Woodford. Our College boys are home for Thanksgiving. Mr. "Steve" White, of Richmond, is here for a slice of turkey.

RELIGIOUS.

The Bible Society meeting at the Methodist church on Sunday night was almost a failure, so far as contributions were concerned. The Christian congregation will resume services at the church next Sunday. Rev. Mr. Pentz will preach on Thanksgiving.

SOME CONSOLATION, AT LEAST.

The Richmond Branch train now creeps in any where between 5 and 8 P. M. Our courteous station master has decided to fit up his domain with oriental elegance for the entertainment of friends who necessarily spend so many hours of the day with him; while the carriages drawn up in line of waiting would indicate that every night is his levee night.

A WAR ON THE MICE.

Master John Owsley set his trap two or three days last week, and caught fifty-three mice. May he carry this blessed trap around among his neighbors and confer a similar boon. One mouse alone has been known recently to devour a handsome Chinichilla overcoat with as much ease as did Mark Twain's camel the tombstone. Nor could a host of cavalry troops make nearly more hideous than do these respectable quadrupeds that infest antique palaces.

COUNTY COURT.

Was as dismal a day as its successors have been. The following Commissioner's sales have been made: In the case of P. D. Gill vs. M. H. Gill, etc., Common Pleas Court, W. H. Kinnaird, Special Commissioner, sold 191 A. and 8 P. to plaintiff at $2 per acre. In the case of C. V. Higgins vs. R. M. Jones, etc., Circuit Court, Master C. M. Walton sold the following tracts: 258 A. and 10 P. to plaintiff Higgins at $16 25 per acre; 101 A. 3 P. to same at $15 per acre; 78 acres to same at $18 per acre.

A VISIT TO LOUISVILLE—INGERSOLL, AC.

Last Thursday's train found the writer snugly ensconced in a comfortable seat with a comfortable party en route for Louisville. As usual, it rained. No one can go to the city without encountering rain at some period of the flitting. Fortunately for our party, the most of the bad weather was while we were journeying. The streets were several inches deep in mud, that was about the consistency of boiled custard and boots and shoes presented a rich field for the blackey's speculative genius. Street cars were liberally patronized, but the crossings and transfers necessitated a brief tugging telling contact with mother earth. As night came on a carriage relieved us of these difficulties, and soon we were rolling along toward Opera Hall. The dallies are always so prompt to take up celebrities that a poor little country weekly reporter has nothing left but hanks. So Ingersoll has been ventilated, analyzed, condemned and executed. The man is, exceedingly captivating as a speaker; his appearance pleasing, his voice flexible and penetrating, his gestures easy and ready.

his command of language something extraordinary. As to the doctrines he teaches, no material good can come of them. If the Bible be a myth and faith a superstition, let us live by the one and die by the other, confident that no better light will dawn for us. He inculcates a high standard of philanthropy, charity and morality. He believes that the man who has lived up to these requisitions stands a far surer chance of heaven (if there be such a place) than the opposite character who claims to get to Paradise through church ordinances. He is a dangerous innovator; for while he says many excellent things, he couches his infidelity in such winning terms as to delude the unreasoning and upset the accepted theory of life everlasting. He has reduced irony to a point so fine that his auditions are often in roars of laughter. In fact, he has only to look at them with a quizzical index to his thoughts, and the laugh breaks forth before he has expressed the idea. The house was crowded to overflowing, yielding hundreds of dollars. Ingersoll received only $250, according to agreement with the Lecture Bureau. Another great attraction in the city was Mr. J. K. Emmet in his capital rendition of the New Fritz. McCauley's was crowded at every performance. The Lullaby as composed by the actor himself and sung to his little sister, runs through the play, and is thrilling in pathetic sweetness. The scenes are laid in Germany and America, and the story acts merely as a framework to set forth the versatile genius of Emmet, who sings and plays on numerous instruments. In the prison scene he renders 'Home, Sweet Home,' on the French harp with marvelous skill and harmony. Every appointment of the play, from the little donkey to the lovely baby who acts a dual part to perfection, is well worthy of applause. The shops in Louisville are bright with winter fashions, and money flies as if resumption days were a phantom of the brain. SAPPHO.

ARTIFICIAL OVERSHOES.

AT M. F. Brinkley's, cheap for cash.

"THE SQUEAL OF THE BOVINES."

Hog-killing is now in full blast, and pork indeed is, for whose table can not be found back-bones, spare-ribs, or sausage.

M. F. BRINKLEY STILL ALIVE.

If you have not yet purchased your Winter boots, or if you need a nice, heavy overcoat, call at M. F. Brinkley's. He'll fix you up in a twinkling.

COMMON PLACES.

The Rockcastle Court of Common Pleas will convene for its December Term, on Tuesday next. The docket will be exceedingly light, and will contain no cases of importance.

REIGNING 'EM TO TAW.

B. R. Wilmont, a constable of this county, captured last week, in Carrollton county, Ky., John A. Hobbs, indicted in our Circuit Court for obtaining money under false pretenses.

THANKSGIVING.

We understand that the church members at this place will undertake to celebrate Thanksgiving day in an appropriate manner. We trust that we shall be able to assist in demolishing, at least, one turkey.

RELIGIOUS.

Father Callahan, of Richmond, will hold Catholic services at the Court-house in this place, on the second Sunday in December next, at 10 o'clock, A. M., and regularly every second Sunday in each month thereafter.

COUNTY COURT.

Last Monday was County Court day. There was a fair crowd in town, though little business was done in the Court. The case of the Pine Hill Coal Company vs. A. P. Ricketts & Co., was continued by consent till the December term.

A GOOD IDEA.

M. F. Brinkley desires every body to know that he is needing money and those who owe him must come forward and settle at once. His condition will admit of no delay. After the 1st of January next, he proposes to adopt the cash system exclusively.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

All persons knowing themselves indebted to W. T. Brooks are hereby notified that his notes and accounts have been placed in the hands of Sam. M. Burdett for collection, and they are requested to call at his office in Mt. Vernon and settle at once and thus save costs, as the business must be closed up.

A CONSUMMATION DEVOTELY TO BE WISHED.

There has been such a lively handling of the pistol for the last few weeks in this county, that our professional duties have caused us to neglect this column. Let us all hope that the last tragedy has occurred, and that hereafter the pen and the bowie-knife may engage our attention.

PERSONAL.

Miss Fannie Williams, one of our most charming young ladies, left Tuesday morning for a visit to her sister, Mrs. L. S. Jones, in Louisville. Miss Celia D. Adams has returned from her visit to Warsaw. Mrs. R. G. Potter and little daughter, from Manchester, who have been visiting Mrs. C. A. Redd, Jr., returned home this week. Mr. J. J. Brooks, of Richmond, a former resident of this place, and a most agreeable gentleman, is spending a few days with his mother and friends at this place.

ACQUITTAL OF ADAMS.

Jack Adams, Jr., was tried last Thursday before Esquires M. R. Moore and J. Whitehead, for shooting and killing Livy Langford, on the 8th inst. The evidence was quite clear that Langford provoked the difficulty, made an attempt to draw his pistol before Adams procured his weapon, did finally draw his pistol first, and fired the shot. It was plainly a case of justifiable homicide. Adams was triumphantly acquitted of all blame in the affair. There seemed to be a feeling of general satisfaction at the result. A large number of Adams' friends were present at the trial, who surrounded him at its conclusion and congratulated him upon his prompt vindication.

JIM BETHURAM DIES WITH HIS BOOTS ON.

Last Thursday evening, 21st inst., as parties who had been attending the trial at this place on that day, were making their way home, a most unfortunate difficulty occurred about one mile from town on the Somerset road. James L. Bethuram and J. J. Thompson were riding on one horse, Bethuram riding behind. Beside them rode Emmett Snodgrass. Some hot words passed between Bethuram and Snodgrass. Both went for their pistols—Bethuram's a large Colt's navy, lying in the scabbard. Snodgrass's was a pocket pistol, a small Smith & Wesson, calibre 32. He fired and struck Bethuram near the top, and slightly on the left side of the head—the ball passing through the brain and lodging under the left eye. Bethuram never spoke, but tumbled off his horse into the mud—and died without a groan. Snodgrass surrendered himself to the Sheriff and told what he had done. The next morning a warrant was sworn out against Thompson, charging him with an accessory to the killing. Their trial was set for Monday, but when it was called the County Attorney sent to the Court that he was related by marriage to one of the defendants, that he had made this fact known to the father of Bethuram, and at his advice, he asked the Court to excuse him from prosecuting the case, which was done accordingly, and R. D. Cook was appointed to represent the State in the prosecution. The examination was, then adjourned till yesterday (Thursday). Public opinion is somewhat divided about the affair, though it is generally believed that Snodgrass shot in self-defense. There has long been a decided antipathy between him and Bethuram. The latter, your readers will recollect, indicted Snodgrass for Ku Kluxing some time ago, but when the case was called in the Courts, he failed to swear to his identity. This caused a bitterness, as Snodgrass was put to considerable trouble and expense, and the case was decided on a peremptory instruction from the Court. Last Thursday the parties met and talked matters over. They agreed to make friends, shake hands and take a drink, which they did. And in less than an hour afterwards Bethuram was a corpse and Snodgrass was in custody. QUITO.

VENISON.

Hon. B. W. S. Huffaker & Co., have just returned from a hunting trip to the mountains. They brought back twelve saddles of venison.

A COMMENDABLE EFFORT.

An effort is being made to raise funds enough to erect a College building in this vicinity. The solicitors report progress, and are hopeful that the necessary amount can be secured, notwithstanding the hard times.

BAD WEATHER FOR PORK PACKERS.

The continued warm, damp weather is creating some uneasiness in the minds of our pork packers as to its safety. Many of our farmers are packing their hogs, risking the bacon market next year rather than to sell at the present unremunerative prices.

STOCK ITEMS.

Messrs. Brown and Sloan, of this county, recently sold 22 head of aged mules to Messrs. McDonald and Cox, of Lagrange, Georgia, for $80 per head. Mr. N. I. Buster sold some parties a Mustang pony for $75. Capt. Lewis Oatts has just returned from New York, whither he had been with a lot of fat cattle. He reports an unprofitable trip.

ROBBERY.

The home of Mr. Peter Summers, living at the head of Elk Spring Valley, was entered Tuesday night and robbed of $512. A portion of the money was concealed in a false bottom nailed to the under side of a chest, the remainder was locked in a trunk. He and his family had left home to spend the night with a neighbor living close by, consequently has no clue as to who committed the robbery.

PEACE BREAKERS.

Mr. William Crandner and his son Lincoln, were arraigned before his Honor, Judge Haynes, on Tuesday last, charged with breach of the peace, for an attack upon James Long. The jury returned a verdict of guilty, and fined William $5 and Lincoln $15 and costs. The rioters on election day were arraigned on Saturday, before Hon. T. J. Lee, P. J. T. M., and moderately fined for their fun.

RELIGIOUS.

Revs. Lohm and Eli Burnett, of the Baptist church, preached at the Union church here, yesterday. The subject of the former's discourse was the Universality of the offer of Salvation; that of the latter, Christian Charity. Both delivered good discourses. The Rev. Mr. Godby, of the Louisville Conference M. E. Church (South), preaches here every 3rd Sunday. The quarterly meeting for the second quarter will be held at this place, beginning Friday night before 3rd Lord's day in December.

Re-opening a Thoroughfare.

In order to guard against results utterly subversive of health, it is absolutely essential that the road thoroughfare or avenue of the system, the bowels, should be re-opened as speedily as possible when they become obstructed. If they are not, the bile is undischarged into the blood; the liver becomes torpid; vicid bilious matter gets into the stomach, and produces indigestion; headaches ensue, and other symptoms are produced, which a prolongation of the existing cause only tends to aggravate. The apartment propositus of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters constitutes a most useful agent in overcoming obstruction of the bowels, and promoting a regular habit of body. It is infinitely superior to the drastic cathartics frequently used for the purpose, since it does not, like them, act violently but produces a natural, painless effect, which does not impair the tone of the evacuator organs, which it invigorates instead of weakening. The stomach and liver, also, indeed the entire system, is strengthened and regulated by it.

PERSONAL.

Miss R. M. Bradley, of Lancaster, was in town yesterday.

Miss Rose Richards has returned from a visit to friends in Lancaster.

John M. H. Owens helped to eat the big turkey at the Myers House yesterday.

Miss Betsey Livingston has gone on a visit to Miss Jennie Buchanan, at Crab Orchard.

Miss Mary and Annie Logan are visiting the family of Mr. Alex. Denney, of Garrett.

Miss Lucy Fleming, of Lexington, has returned home after a short visit to Miss Kate Dennis.

Frank R. M. McRoberts, of Franklin Institute, Lancaster, took Thanksgiving dinner at home.

Chas. R. Nield, Esq., of the Harrodsburg Observer, showed his smiling face here last Saturday.

Mr. Brutes Cook and his pretty sister, Miss Amanda, of Madison, are visiting Miss Jennie Pleasant.

Miss Jeanne Duncan, of Lancaster, a bright and attractive young lady, is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. C. Warren.

Rev. J. A. Bogle, of Harrodsburg, who always leaves a ray of sunshine behind him, made us a pleasant call this week.

Miss Mary Varnon, one of our most interesting young ladies, will leave for Lexington tomorrow, her last visit.

Mr. J. Owsley Dicks, of Richmond, spent yesterday here. We'll wager that he enjoyed his Thanksgiving more than any man in town.

Mr. John H. Shanks arrived Wednesday with his wife and child. Mrs. Shanks has been about a month or two, visiting relatives in Shelby.

A young man named Howard Dunlap is a guest of the family of Mr. George H. Brown. He is rather small for his size, but he can "bottle" equal to a twenty-pounder.

Richard W. Hovick, Esq., has returned from his visit to Fayette county. He returned accompanied by his cousin, Miss Lucy Pettin, to Mr. Carroll Bailey, of Shelbyville, Ky., and had the pleasure of seeing each of his 43 first cousins that live in that county.

Mr. M. J. Dwyer, of Kentucky, reported for duty at the Appropriations Committee rooms of the House yesterday morning. Mr. Dwyer is always prompt when work is to be done, and most every body in Washington will regret that he was not re-elected.—(Washington Post, 2nd.)

Mr. J. H. Root, with her two children, and Miss Kittie America and Eliza Root arrived from Texas this week. Mr. Root and the boys are coming in wagons, and all are satisfied that Kentucky is the best place after all. The trip has been an unfortunate one with them; one of their original number died, and they have all more or less suffered from disease.

LOCAL NEWS.

Next Monday will be County Court, and when you come to town call at our office and get warm. We promise not to dun you.

We suggest that a meeting of the Stockholders in the Lincoln County Library Association be held at once, and demand that their money be refunded.

BUSINESS CHANGE.—Mrs. John J. Duderar has purchased the millinery shop of Mrs. F. J. Anthony, and has opened out in the old Post office building on Lancaster street.

STOCK in the Lincoln County Library Association is now offered at 25¢ per cent. below par. Parties desirous of purchasing can call at this office and get the names of those who are long to sell.

A HANDSOME REQUEST.—Old uncle Dickey Lee, who died last week, aged 78, left all of his property, amounting to several thousand dollars, to a trustee for the benefit of a public school at McKinney Station.

SNOW.—Five days of rainy, gloomy weather culminated on Wednesday night in a pretty fair snow storm. Those who got up early enough Thursday morning, saw the house tops covered to a considerable depth with the "beautiful."

THE judgment in the case of Bash & Co. vs. the Singer Manufacturing Company has been reversed by the Court of Appeals. The suit grew out of the attachment for debt of a Sewing Machine that the Company had sold to a party who had not finished paying for it.

IMPROVING THE MORALS.—In our Rockcastle letter will be found an account of another desperado dying with his boots on. Two in ten days is going it pretty lively, but it is the best way to get rid of them, and we glory in any means that will lead to the total annihilation of that class of cattle.

THERE has never been a better oyster and eating saloon in our town than that of Jack Davis' in the basement of the Van Arcade building. His rooms are clean, comfortable, well lighted both day and night, and fresh oysters, wild game, or domestic lunch can be had at all hours at reasonable rates. Call to see him.

THANKSGIVING day was pretty generally observed here. The banks, the post-office and a number of the stores were closed, and it was the quietest day since we have had for a long time.

A GOOD IDEA.—Mr. Allen Besley is tearing down the old log house on the premises lately bought by Mr. Royce Stewart of Dr. Logan. The building has long been an eyesore, and its removal will greatly change that part of the town for the better.

ACQUITTED.—Wm. F. Kennedy was acquitted at Lexington, last week, of the charges arising from his participation in the affair at Richmond, in which Walter Saunders and Tuck Ballard were killed. There was no argument of counsel, and the jury was but a few moments in making its verdict.

SPECIAL COURT.—Judge Owsley will hold a special term of his Court here, tomorrow, for the purpose of sentencing John Cain, who escaped from jail before the sentence of ten years in the Penitentiary was passed on him. We understand that his counsel appointed by the Court, Mr. J. S. Hocker, intends to take Cain's case to the Court of Appeals.

SCHOOL CHILDREN.—From School Commissioner Phillips, we learn that the total number of white children in the county, reported, between the ages of 6 and 20 is 3,738 and that $6,076 64 is the amount of money appropriated this year for their education. There are 900 colored children between the school ages, and the amount appropriated for them is $454. The county is divided into 58 white and 11 colored districts.

THAT excellent hotel, the Myers House, set a most sumptuous dinner on Thanksgiving which was heartily enjoyed by a number of invited guests, one of whom remarked that, "if a half-dozen infirm diners were due me, and it was stipulated that each in succession should be a better one, I shouldn't growl if the best were but half as good as Thanksgiving dinner at the Myers House yesterday."

MANY of our readers from a distance frequently come to our town on business of various kinds, and to all who may come during the remainder of the season, we suggest that while here they call upon our well-known friends, the Messrs. Hayden Brothers, and inspect their very extensive and varied stock of goods. We are sure that such a course would be to the mutual benefit of customer and merchant. No where else can better or cheaper goods be found.

TAKEN IN.—A tramp bent on making a raise, drove a calf that he found on the pike to Mr. John Logan's, and asked him to purchase the animal, stating that he had traded his watch for the calf, knowing that it would be much easier to dispose of than a time-piece, for which he had no need.

He was some distance from home and strapped, and although the calf was worth more, he was willing to take $5 for it in order to obtain money to reach home. Mr. Logan—good, kind-hearted man that he is, took in the story, paid the money and took the calf. A few days afterwards a neighbor claimed it, and Mr. Logan, convinced that it was stolen property, returned it to its owner without the least hesitation. Minus his $5, Mr. Logan awaits a day of retribution; and the next man that comes around to sell him a calf had better have his credentials in proper shape, or he may suffer.

A MIXED UP CASE.—Some time ago, Mr. Frank Smith, of Fayette, sent 84 hogs to Mr. J. B. Owens, of this county, to fatten. Mr. Owens fed them about four weeks, and then contracted with Mr. Thos. Blackley to take and feed them. 200 barrels of corn at $1 75 per barrel. Last Saturday, Mr. Owens decided to ship the hogs, and that evening Mr. Blackley brought them to town and put them in the R. R. pens. Mr. Owens not being just then able to pay Mr. Blackley for his corn, the latter took an attachment on fifty of the hogs, and other parties attached the remainder. A compromise was, however, effected, and as we understand it, Mr. B. agreed to let the hogs be shipped. He changed his mind, however, and that night the hogs were driven from the pens, and the next we hear of them is that Mr. Blackley had sold them to Mr. George Ashlock, at 21¢. Mr. Ben F. Robinson, and he shipped them to Cincinnati. Wednesday, Mr. Blackley came to town and deposited in bank the balance of the money after paying himself for the corn fed to the hogs. It is also reported that Mr. Smith had paid Mr. Owens several hundred dollars on account of the hogs, and at present it looks as if he will not only lose his hogs entirely, but the money, which we learn Mr. Owens claims for his part of the feeding. It is a much mixed case, and some interesting law suits are bound to follow.

A MODERATE FRISK SENATOR.—Was produced here Friday morning on the arrival of the passenger train by J. T. Duderar who, with pistol in hand and fire in his eyes, jumped aboard and hurried through the cars, looking wildly into the face of each passenger and seeming to thirst for the blood of some one he was unable to find. After his intense excitement had somewhat abated, we ventured to enquire the cause of his trouble, and learned that his wife, in company with one Granville Veach, had eloped from her home near Falls Gap the night before, and that he expected to find them on the train, bound for some point where they could enjoy their illicit love and be safe from his vengeance. He said that Veach has for some time been hanging around his house, and that he with jealousy had noticed the growing intimacy between his wife and him. He had frequently chided her for her conduct, but previous to Veach's arrival he had never spoken a cross word to her. "So woman in the State," he added, "was better treated than she; and I defy any woman in Lincoln county to show as many clothes as she has."

Mr. Duderar sat on the train, and after several days' hunt found his wife at a relative's of Veach in Washington county. Veach was not found, and it is probably best for his health that he was not. Mrs. Duderar didn't hesitate to return, and excused herself by saying that she had left home to visit Veach's sister, who was sick. Meeting Mr. Duderar since the capture, we were told that he had not yet decided to live with her again; but said he, with tears in his eyes, "I love that woman better than anything on earth, and I would rather part with ten thousand worlds, if I owned them, than to give her up!" A man who feels that way toward a woman is mighty apt to overlook so small an indiscretion as the one of running off with another man, and take her to his bed and board again. Let us hope so, at least.

OUT AGAIN.—Joseph Hughes, after serving out about one-fourth of his sentence for disorderly conduct, took an appeal in his case to the Circuit Court, gave bond, and is now at large. We hope for the sake of his friends that he will "turn over a new leaf" and make a man of himself.

THE MARSHAL IN TROUBLE.—On Monday evening after Mr. Grimes had sworn out a warrant against Jennings and Davis, the process was directed and delivered to S. D. Myers, the Marshal, for execution. He refused to take it; whereupon, W. H. Miller, County Attorney, swore out a warrant against Myers for refusing to serve a criminal process, and the case will come up for trial to-day.

PATRONIZE HIM.—Mr. John H. Langan, of Paris, Ky., a draughtsman and engineer connected with the firm of Beers & Langan, who has been making surveys and maps in this State for the last four years, is here, and proposes to make a map of this county from the surveys recently taken, provided he receives sufficient encouragement from our citizens. We trust that he will be liberally patronized, as the map he intends making will be worth a great deal for trial to-day.

IN A BAD SNAP.—On Monday last Wm. Jennings and Chas. Davis, of Garrard, came over to collect a debt of W. W. Grimes, which they claimed had been standing for fifteen years. They went to Grimes' house and demanded payment, but he insisted that he had not the wherewithal to liquidate. They then told him to saddle his horse and go with them to town, and Jennings, with a drawn knife that he handled in an uncomfortably close proximity to Grimes' throat, threatened to use it on his jugular vein if he did not hurry up. Grimes, thinking it best to do as they bid, caught his horse and started to get on him, but they made him get in the buggy with Jennings, while Davis rode the horse. On nearing town Jennings again made demonstrations with his knife, and told Grimes that if he attempted to have them arrested it would be a fatal thing with him. But on arrival here, Grimes jumped out of the buggy and the young men went on through town at a lively speed with Grimes' horse still in their possession. A warrant was immediately sworn out, and after some delay it was placed in the hands of Constable J. B. Hobbitt, who hurried in the direction they had given. Finding themselves pursued, they turned the horse loose, but they were not overtaken this side of Lancaster, and on his arrival here Mr. Hobbitt gave the process to Mr. Hunley Singleton, Town Marshal, who followed them to their homes near Bryantville, arrested and brought them here for trial on Tuesday. They were not ready for trial, and the case was postponed till to-day at 10 o'clock. The charge of horse-stealing was changed to robbery, and it is likely that the young men may yet pay severely for their frolic.

A UNSPOOLED AMALGAM.—Last Saturday, Lucien Lasley was called to Crab Orchard, on business with Capt. T. G. Moore, and while standing talking with him in the middle of the street, Will Saunders, who had been walking up and down the pavement in an excited manner, went by the lapel of his coat, applied a vulgar and rough epithet to him, and told him that he had to acknowledge that he was just what he had called him or suffer the consequences. Lasley told him that he was unarmed, but he would see him in the lowest regions of—before he would make any such acknowledgment. Saunders, who had all the right hand in his pants pocket all the time, cocked his pistol and had it nearly in readiness to send a ball through Lasley's heart, when Capt. Moore seized his hand and prevented him from doing the terrible deed that he contemplated. At this juncture, old Arch Carson, no doubt, to carry favor with Saunders and his ilk, rushed on Lasley with a drawn knife, and used the same words to him that Saunders had done. Mr. Reuben Bronaugh took him in charge, and Carson, to show an over amount of bravery, told him that if he did not release him, that he would carve his d—n head off. Mr. Bronaugh immediately let him go, and told him to proceed with his carving, but the old man's courage began to ooze out of the ends of his fingers when confronted by a man who had an equal show with himself, and he very wisely concluded to desist. A large crowd had gathered by this time, when Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Will Kennedy, seeing the great danger that Mr. Lasley was in, came to his rescue, and under their protection he reached Capt. Moore's house. Thither the crowd, headed by Saunders, followed, and Saunders making other demonstrations toward Lasley, Capt. Moore went to him, told him he was acting very foolishly, and asked him to leave, which he finally consented to do, and after the excitement had subsided, Capt. Moore took Mr. Lasley in his buggy and saw him safely home. To Capt. Moore and those estimable ladies, and Mr. Bronaugh, Mr. Lasley undoubtedly owes his life, and all good people will join in awarding them the highest praise. Saunders' action was most reprehensible and completely kills the good opinion that his previous conduct since his brother George got in to trouble, had created in his behalf. It shows his feelings, and his last Saturday's doings will rebound, not only to his own injury, but infinitely to the damage of his brother. In palliation of his outrage, our informant states, that Saunders, with others, had been making merry over the acquittal of Will Kennedy, who had arrived that morning, and that at the time he attacked Lasley, he was under the influence of liquor. Be that as it may; it speaks no good of a man, who pent up passion finds expression only when he is drinking. The severest penalty of the law should be inflicted on Saunders, the more so, as he occupied the position of Town Marshal of Crab Orchard, and made his attack under cover of that office. Mr. Lasley's conduct, we learn from Capt. Moore, was the coolest and bravest that he has ever seen shown by any man, and he makes no hesitation in saying that "he is a man, every inch of him." Lasley has incurred the wrath of the law-breakers of Crab Orchard and elsewhere, by his manly efforts in bringing George Saunders and others to justice, and to him is mainly due the astonishing revelations that twelve months ago caused the people of this county to rise in their might in behalf of law and order. The same people stand in readiness now to protect Mr. Lasley, in all his lawful and commendable doings, and we would advise Saunders, if of sane mind, not to incur their wrath, nor cause their second uprising. In justice to Mr. Lasley, we state that the statements contained in this article were not obtained from him, but from a gentleman who witnessed the affair and who is in every way reliable.

NOTWITHSTANDING the unusually dull times, we have noticed that Messrs. Hayden Brothers have done simply a large business this Fall, and are destined to continue to do so long as they keep their stock up to its full extent. The firm goes on the motto of "quick sales, small profits, excellent and cheap goods." Remnants are always disposed of by this house as soon as possible, and for a mere trifle, and full lines of staple goods are continually on hand.

MARRIAGES.

SWORE—YOUNG—Married at the Burnet House, Cincinnati, Mr. Wm. Swope, formerly of this county, to Miss Fannie Young, of Fayette.

ROBERTS—CLARK—At Crab Orchard, at the residence of the bride, on the 24th, Mr. Hiram Roberts to Mrs. Amanda Clark. The Rev. Jasper Livingston, performed the ceremony.

BRADLEY—COLEMAN—On Tuesday morning, in Middleburg, Casey county, by the Rev. J. W. Salter, Mr. W. H. Bradley, of Garrard, was united in marriage to Mrs. Maggie Coleman.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Miss Alice, the accomplished and lovely daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Grimes, to Mr. Wm. E. McEafe, of Louisville. The ceremony will be at 9 o'clock on the morning of the 3rd of December, and the happy pair will take the Cincinnati Southern for an extended tour.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP ITEMS.

Mr. Lewis Jones has about 45 head of fat cattle for sale.

G. W. Bobbitt bought of A. B. McKinnis, a good young horse for $60.

Tom Blackley sold to George Ashlock, 84 hogs, averaging 335 pounds, at 21¢.

A pork packing firm in Bowling Green has purchased 1,200 hogs at 21¢ per head.

Wm. M. Ball shipped to Louisville, on Wednesday, 23 head of cattle of his own fattening.

At Springfield court last Monday, cattle ranged from 21¢ per pound for common to 4¢ for best.

A Lexington man had for his Thanksgiving dinner a turkey that weighed 36 pounds gross.

The Georgetown Times tells of a lot of fancy 2-year old cattle that average over 1,500 pounds.

A. R. & R. O. McLean sold in Winchester last week, 31 head of Tennessee cattle at $45 per head.—(Lancaster Visitor.)

Sales of 1,325-lb. cattle, at 3¢ cents; 1,475-lb. at 4¢ cents; 1,540-lb. at $4 15, are reported in the Winchester Democrat.

A gentleman said yesterday he remembered when hogs sold in this State at $1 25 per hundred, and the packers lost money.—(Yeoman.)

Excelsior, the celebrated tract horse, for many years the property of Dan Rice, died a few days ago, aged 36. He had been blind for many years.

Mr. Lewis A. Moore shipped his ranch in Kansas this week, 10 fine Cotswold bucks and 85 ewes of the same breed. Most of them averaged 200 pounds.

Hiram Quisenberry has sold 19 of his mules in Louisiana at an average of about $140. He reports the market dull and times hard.—(Paris Kentuckian.)

Col. Frank P. Colcord, of Bourbon, bought of Mr. Richard, of same county, 60 head of choice lambs for feeding purposes, at $5 00 per head. They averaged 105 pounds.

A BIG COLT.—Mr. Lewis Duderar has a Denmark colt foaled the middle of last April, that measures 14 hands 1½ inches high. It will perhaps be 20 hands in the time it is 3-years-old.

Judge D. R. Hays, of Washington county, had a car load of cattle at Danville court on the 18th, but being offered only 3½¢ per lb. for them, shipped them to Cincinnati, where he sold them at 4¢. The difference in price left a handsome margin above the cost of transportation.—(Lancaster Standard.)

Samuel Bruce fattened a lot of hogs this season for Mr. John McKoberts at 3¢ cents per pound. He delivered them this week and the scales showed that he had put on 129 pounds to the head. Both parties lost money by the operation. Hogs are only worth $2 50 and when corn is worth $2 25 per barrel there is no profit in feeding it to them at 3¢.

WINCHESTER COURT.—There were about 700 or 800 cattle on the market, and but few lots left over unsold. The best price realized for feeding cattle did not exceed $3 50 per cwt, many good feeders selling as low as $3. Yearling cattle were a dull sale, selling at from $20 to $25 per head. There were some buyers for mule colts at $18 to $30 per head.

LOUISVILLE.—Good to extra shipping cattle, 1½¢ to 4¢; best butchers, 3¢ to 3½¢; medium to good, 2½¢ to 2½¢. The hog market is firm and active with an upward tendency; tops now bring as high as $2 95 per cwt, but the bulk of the sales are at $2 85 and $2 90; fat to good, $2 75 and $2 80; common and shoats, $2 25 to $2 50. Extra sheep sell at 3¢ to 3½¢; common to medium, 1½¢ to 2½¢.

LINCOLN COUNTY NEWS.

Pigstons.

BULLY.

The lottery gents that visited our town a short time ago, have quit the business and gone to breaking rock in Danville.

THE EAGLE. That has been wandering around in this vicinity for sometime, was killed a few days ago by Mr. Jerry Sandridge. It measured seven feet from tip to tip.

THE NEW ORGAN.

The members of the Providence Sunday School, met last Wednesday night, to practice singing and playing on the new organ. Miss Carrie Harlan is the organist, and performs admirably.

Mrs. Mary Owsley, widow of Eb. Owsley, died Thursday night, 21st inst., at Mr. Stephen Owsley's, near this place, after a long and painful illness. Her remains were taken to Danville for interment.—(DEATHS.)

Mr. James Wash, a promising young lawyer from Anderson county, made us a short visit. He will probably make arrangements to hang out his shingle here about Christmas. Mr. W. O. Middleton has gone to Hyattsville, Garrard county, to spend a few weeks with relatives there.

ENOUGH FELVIN COUNTESS NOW. Mess. John Melvin and Robert Frith, of Brodhead, were in our town last week. Mr. Wm. Lee, Clerk of the corps of State Geological Survey, was here last week. He agrees with us in regard to the necessities and advantages of forming a new county of this end of Lincoln and parts of the adjoining counties of Casey and Pulaski.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

On Saturday night the 16th inst., at Waynesburg, deputy Sheriff McKenna, very narrowly escaped the bullet of a midnight assassin, being fired at while in the act of mounting his horse, the ball passing under his arm, striking his horse in the middle, causing him to suddenly jump from his grasp, and while trying to get hold of the horse again, he was fired at.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION. On Saturday night the 16th inst., at Waynesburg, deputy Sheriff McKenna, very narrowly escaped the bullet of a midnight assassin, being fired at while in the act of mounting his horse, the ball passing under his arm, striking his horse in the middle, causing him to suddenly jump from his grasp, and while trying to get hold of the horse again, he was fired at.

PERSONAL.

Mr. James Wash, a promising young lawyer from Anderson county, made us a short visit. He will probably make arrangements to hang out his shingle here about Christmas. Mr. W. O. Middleton has gone to Hyattsville, Garrard county, to spend a few weeks with relatives there.

ENOUGH FELVIN COUNTESS NOW. Mess. John Melvin and Robert Frith, of Brodhead, were in our town last week. Mr. Wm. Lee, Clerk of the corps of State Geological Survey, was here last week. He agrees with us in regard to the necessities and advantages of forming a new county of this end of Lincoln and parts of the adjoining counties of Casey and Pulaski.
